From the President

To Our Graduates

As Goodwin University continues its journey into the new world created by the pandemic, we are so thankful that for the second year in a row, we are able to gather in person to celebrate our graduates' outstanding accomplishments. You have persevered in your education through challenges that required the greatest dedication and vision.

Goodwin's board of trustees, faculty, and staff join me in honoring the choices you have made, the grace you have demonstrated, and — perhaps most important — the difference you will make in the lives of others.

We are living through incredibly uncertain times. Knowing that Goodwin's graduates are going out into the world to heal, protect, build, counsel, and create is a great source of pride for our community. Armed not only with practical knowledge, but also with strength of character, you will show the world that a brighter future is possible.

Thank you so much for letting us be a part of your success.

Mark E. Scheinberg
President

Commencement Traditions

The Medallion and Mace

The presidential medallion is the symbol of the leadership of the University. The components of the chain represent important dates, academic disciplines, mottos, and other elements that tell the Goodwin University story.

The ceremonial Goodwin University mace is a part of all formal ceremonies and convocations. The mace bearer leads the procession followed by the president and chair of the Board of Trustees.

The design of the mace is very specific to the University and conveys the traditions of our institution. The top of the mace is the Goodwin University seal. The four small symbols attached to the staff are the State of Connecticut seal, the Town of East Hartford seal, 1999, and a ship's wheel representing our mascot, the Navigator.

The Ringing of the Bell

During our Commencement exercises, as the trustees, faculty, and graduates prepare to enter, the valedictorian will signal the start of the processional by ringing the bell.

The reverberations radiating out symbolize our graduates' spirit of possibility and the positive impact they will have, locally and throughout the world, in their chosen careers.

Each toll of the bell signifies a year since the founding of Goodwin University.

From the Board

Congratulations From the Board of Trustees

As stewards of the University, we support its growth and evolution, while remaining mindful of the founding principles of the institution, chiefly, that every student deserves the opportunity and support to succeed. Our institutional success — and the measure of our leadership — is tied inexorably to the success of every one of our students. For us, the reward for our service comes each year at Commencement when we witness hundreds receiving their hard-earned degrees.

Student Speakers

Marthe A. Annan Kingsley N.

Master of Science in Organizational Leadership

Marthe and her family fled their home country, Cote D'Ivoire, to escape the conflict of civil war. She held a bachelor's degree in business administration and a master's in public relations with years of experience providing customer support with professionalism, integrity, and compassion. With this new beginning and despite a language barrier, Marthe entered Goodwin University, graduating with a bachelor's degree in Management and Leadership in 2020. While completing her master's degree in Organizational Leadership, Marthe worked with Integrated Refugee and Immigrant Services as a co-sponsor case manager.

Marthe has served the community by becoming a member of Goodwin's student leadership and volunteering for United Way. She serves as a board member of African Solidarity and as vice president of an international NGO, whose objective is to strengthen the image of youth as future leaders. Marthe received the Hoffman Family Library Award for her exceptional performance, leadership, and library service.

Marthe is the author of several manuscripts including Inspire Someone (May 2022) and a poem for Goodwin University. She is an entrepreneur and works as a translator and interpreter in French and English.

Cheryl A. Marmorale Joseffy

Bachelor of Science, Public Safety and Security

Raised on Long Island, Cheryl graduated from Oyster Bay High School in 1978, unsure of her educational path. She pursued a career in special events planning and jewelry sales, traveled worldwide as a luxury sales rep in high-end jewelry products, and became a single mom to her son Christopher. Returning to college in 2018, she earned her degree in Homeland Security, Public Safety, and Criminal Justice in only three and a half years. In that time, she had the opportunity to intern with the Glastonbury Emergency Communications Department, where she still volunteers, worked with FEMA in their planning department in Washington, D.C., and set up educational workshops for fellow students.

Cheryl has also volunteered with the Klingberg Home and with youth in foster care. She mentors women suffering from substance abuse and volunteers her time with Just Cause, an organization for adults with needs. Cheryl continues volunteer work in all areas of emergency management, especially with the homeless and less fortunate. For Cheryl, mentoring is a key part of all that she continues to do.

Cheryl's desire is to pursue her master's degree, and this fall will be attending Capella University's online program for a double master's program in Emergency Services and Cybersecurity. She currently is volunteering with the Incident Command Team of Hartford Hospital and continues to participate with the EOC for the State of Connecticut, helping others wherever she can.

He coordinates his gang intervention strategies with Hartford Public Schools, Hartford Peace Builders, and Hartford Police Department.

Robert E. Patricelli

Bob Patricelli has spent over 50 years in leadership roles in the health care industry and in public service. He began his business life in health care in 1987 at Connecticut General Corporation and its successor, Cigna Corporation, culminating as president of Cigna's health care group. In 1997 he left Cigna to begin a 30-year career as a serial entrepreneur with the founding of Value Health, Inc., which he and his team grew from a scratch start-up to a Fortune 1000 NYSE company that was acquired by Columbia HCA. In 2000, Bob founded and led Evolution Benefits, a benefits debit card company, until its sale to a private equity firm in 2010. He later founded and was CEO of Women's Health USA until its sale in 2017. He currently serves as Strategic Advisor at InTandem Capital Partners, a New York-based private equity firm.

Bob's public service activities started fresh out of law school as a White House Fellow in the first year of that program, then as Minority Counsel to a U.S. Senate subcommittee, then as Deputy Under Secretary for Policy at the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and finally as Administrator of the Urban Mass Transportation Administration under President Ford. Most recently, Bob has served as the co-chair of the Commission on Fiscal Stability and Economic Growth in Connecticut, appointed by Governor Malloy in 2017. # Valedictorian

Patrycja Potaczala

B.S. Business Administration

Patrycja was born and raised in Poland, where she earned her law degree from the University of Rzeszow in 2016. When she decided to move to the United States in 2017, she knew that earning a degree in this country would be crucial to achieving her dreams. That is when her journey at Goodwin University started. She is a first-generation college student who needed to overcome many obstacles to earn her degree. At the beginning of her educational path in the United States, she was developing her language skills as an adult learner concurrently with learning the academic material.

Patrycja is a member of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and during her time at Goodwin was named to the President's List every semester. She also served as a member of the Dean's Council. Well aware of the obstacles that immigrants and adult learners must overcome to earn a degree, she accepted this position to help her peers pursue their academic dreams.

Patrycja is currently working as a production assistant for a litigation department at Updike, Kelly & Spellacy, P.C. In addition to academics, she pursues her two passions: traveling and yoga. She would like to thank her whole family for their love and support throughout her entire life; her husband for believing in her and always encouraging her to reach for more; and the Goodwin University faculty, staff, and students for their support, the amazing opportunities, and always making her feel included and part of this wonderful community.
