POLICY STATEMENT:
In order to ensure a safe, secure, and productive learning environment for our student body and our entire community, a new and expanded Student Code of Conduct was introduced in the 2015-2016 Student Handbook. While there had previously been a section titled “Code of Conduct” the new Student Code of Conduct is a new policy. Goodwin University’s Student Code of Conduct reflects the University’s Mission Statement by reinforcing those deeply-held beliefs that represent the University’s highest priorities and fundamental driving forces. The promotion of respect for diversity and the right to a safe educational environment are the centerpieces of the University’s mission. The Student Code of Conduct promotes a safe, secure, and productive learning environment for the Goodwin University community.

PROCEDURE DETAILS:
The purpose of conduct proceedings is to provide a fair evaluation of a student’s alleged responsibility for violating University policies and/or this Code. Formal rules of evidence shall not apply and deviations from the prescribed procedures will not necessarily invalidate a decision, unless significant prejudice to a respondent may result. The outcome of the conduct proceeding may be appealed under the Appeals section of this Code.

Goodwin University’s Student Code of Conduct reflects the University’s mission statement by reinforcing those deeply-held beliefs that represent the University’s highest priorities and fundamental driving forces. The promotion of respect for diversity and the right to a safe educational environment are the centerpieces of the University’s mission. The General Code of Conduct promotes a safe, secure, and productive learning environment for the Goodwin University community.

Jurisdiction:
The Code shall apply to conduct that occurs on University premises; at University sponsored or sanctioned activities; and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects (a) the peace/comfort/safety/security of others or the University community and (b) the integrity of the educational or developmental process. Students are responsible for their individual conduct and the Conduct Board shall decide whether the Code will be applied to conduct occurring off-campus, on a case-by-case basis.

Violations of law and convictions:
Students may be held accountable both to civil authorities and to the University for acts that constitute violations of law and of this Code. Disciplinary action by the University will normally be concurrent with civil or criminal proceedings despite the dismissal or reduction of the charges by civil authorities. The University may, at its discretion, postpone disciplinary proceedings pending the outcome of a civil or criminal action. Students who are convicted of felony criminal charges while enrolled are required to inform the Vice President of Student Affairs. The University may bring disciplinary action against the student for the same incident if the alleged conduct is prohibited by the institution and/or if it is judged to be adverse to the recognized mission of the institution. University conduct procedures are distinct and independent of any and all criminal procedures. When necessary, temporary action may be taken in the form of summarily suspending, summarily restricting, or officially directing no contact between the victim and assailant, as well as possible changes in course schedule.

Interim suspensions:
The Student Conduct Board may suspend a student from the University for an interim period pending disciplinary or criminal proceedings or medical evaluation. An interim suspension shall become effective immediately and without prior notice if there is information available that the student’s continued presence on campus poses a substantial and immediate threat to her/himself, others, and/or the performance of normal University functions. During interim suspension, a student shall be denied access to the campus and/or all other University activities or privileges for which the student might otherwise be eligible, including access to curriculum. The interim suspension does not delay or void the regular disciplinary process, which shall proceed on a normal schedule.
Standards of classroom behavior:
Primary responsibility for managing the classroom environment rests with the faculty. Students who engage in any inappropriate, prohibited, or unlawful acts that result in disruption of a class may be directed by the faculty member to leave the class for the remainder of the class period and may be referred to the Student Conduct Board.

Conduct Rules:
Goodwin University expects that its students will strive for high standards of honor and good citizenship, and that they will conduct themselves, both on- and off-campus, in a manner that reflects well on themselves and the University. Mediation: A student may be required to mediate a dispute with the aggrieved party with the oversight of a qualified mediator.

Letter of Apology to the Aggrieved Party: A student may be required to write a letter of apology to the aggrieved party. A draft copy of the letter must be provided to the Student Conduct Board for prior approval.

In such case, the student shall be required to provide evidence to the Student Conduct Board of attendance and completion of counseling by a qualified professional.

Other educational sanctions may be imposed instead of or in addition to those specified in this section. More than one of the sanctions listed above may be imposed for any single violation. Significant mitigating factors shall be considered when sanctions are imposed, including the present demeanor and past conduct record of the student as well as the nature of the offense and the severity of any damage, injury, or harm resulting from it.

Appeals:

In the appeal, the student must identify one or more of the grounds listed above along with an explanation as to why the Goodwin University Appeals Board should consider this request. The Goodwin University Appeals Board will not process appeals that do not follow these instructions.

The GUAB will either accept or reject the request for an appeal and, if it is accepted, will decide whether to make a new determination itself or to send the matter back to the Student Conduct Board for further review. Sanctions can be increased, decreased, or remain the same based on the outcome of the appeals process.

Student Conduct Hearing Process (Non-Academic/Non-Title IX Misconduct)

1. Notification of Incident: A formal notification of alleged code violations will be given to the student within 3-5 business days of an incident stating that the student is in violation of the code of conduct and will need to be present for a hearing on day, time, location, and listed code violations.

2. Hearing: Depending on the severity of the case, the Vice President of Student Affairs will determine whether the student will sit in front of the conduct board or a conduct administrator. The hearing board may be comprised of two or more, faculty, staff members or any combination.

3. Record of Hearing: The University reserves the right to record all hearings. This recording is property of the University and no other recordings are to be made of the proceedings.

4. Opportunity to Present a Defense: The accused will be afforded the right to present defense including the submission of evidence and the right to question the accuser in writing only.

5. Non-Appearance of Accused Student: Failure to appear for scheduled hearing will result in the meeting held in the student’s absence. The University reserves the right to carry on the proceedings without the student, unless extenuating circumstances resulted in the student’s absence. The Vice President of Student Affairs will have the final say as to whether or not a student's circumstances warrant an excusable absence and reason for rescheduling the hearing.

6. Admission of Persons to Hearing: All hearings will be considered “closed” hearings. Only relevant persons including the accused, conduct board, security (as needed), advisors, attorney, parent/guardian and others deemed necessary by hearing board will be permitted. Hearing board officials in training will be permitted, as needed.

7. Right to an Advisor or Attorney: The accused student has the right to consult with the support person of their choice (Parent/Guardian, Attorney, Counselor, etc.) in preparation of their defense. The accused student also has the right to have the support person sit with them at the hearing and consult privately with the person, however the support person will not be permitted to speak or advocate during the hearing. The advisor cannot be a current student of the University.

8. Prior Disciplinary Sanctions/Outcomes: Any prior disciplinary record may be used to determine whether or not a student is responsible for the incident in question. The prior record may also be used to determine sanctioning.

9. Written Notice of Outcome: The student will be given a written notice of decision at the hearing, including sanctions (if any). A formal follow-up letter with the decision will be sent by email and US postal mail. The student will be asked to sign an acknowledgment. If the student refuses to sign or the student failed to show up, the members of the hearing board may sign instead. Under no circumstances will a student’s refusal to sign postpone or change the sanctioning outcome.

All students at Goodwin University are expected to exhibit courteous behavior both inside and outside the classroom and to show respect for their fellow community members, including faculty and staff. Any student whose behavior is found to be disrespectful and/or not in line with the University’s mission and values will be referred to the General Conduct Board for review.
